PLAN AND SECTION
OF THE TWO ROUTES OF RAIL ROAD
from
PHILADELPHIA TO NORRISTOWN.

Drawn by Henry R. Campbell and Reduced by John C. Fairbank
1838 to 1840

— Represents the line of Rail Road, actually finished.
- - - Represents the Northern Line in the Valley of the Wissahickon Creek.
— Represents the Southern Line in the Valley of the Schuylkill River.

The Philadelphia to Norristown Railroad (The Chestnut Hill East) changed the landscape and relationship of Germantown to Philadelphia, dividing and creating steam-powered industry. Horse-drawn streetcars on trolley tracks changed the way people could travel.

"I would have, then, our ordinary dwelling-houses built to last and built to be lovely; as rich and full of pleasantness as may be, within and without, and with such differences as might suit and express each man's character and occupation, and partly his history."—Ruskin.

Scenic park land along the Wissahickon Creek, formerly water-powered industry, with Lincoln Drive and motorcars.

Germantown Present

Germantown Futures?

Method: Preservation thinking and tools + Planning thinking and tools combined

Philosophy: Future design in a historically rich neighborhood necessitates an understanding of past development and its meaning in the present Problem: One of America's most historically rich neighborhoods, racially and economically divided, ripe for demolitions and development. How do we use our tools, understanding, collaboration and diplomacy to guide and shape its future?
