Meyerson Hall, B3

The tastiest way to start thinking about getting the job you want...

Grab some lunch and get to know your career advisors. We'll have pizza for you, and will be talking about some of the resources we have specifically for PennDesign students who are starting their programs. This will be a relaxed and informal event, but you will learn how to utilize our student/employer engagement platform "Handshake" to find internship and job opportunities, connect with your career advisors, and find career-related programs and workshops on campus. Bring your questions, and we'll make sure we give you some answers.
