

Nancy Rogo Trainer, FAIA, LEED, is University Architect and Associate Vice President for Facilities at Drexel University. Prior to joining the University in 2013, Nancy was a principal at Venturi, Scott Brown and Associates and its successor firm, providing design and planning services to colleges, universities, and cultural institutions. Her work includes campus plans, museums, student centers, and libraries – design that helps build community by integrating social, strategic, and physical goals. She was a 2012-2013 William Penn Foundation Affiliated Fellow at the American Academy in Rome, and was elevated to the American Institute of Architects College of Fellows in 2012. She is an adjunct professor in Drexel’s architecture program, a member of the Philadelphia Planning Commission, and the Chair of the Philadelphia Civic Design Review Committee.
